Grant At Appomattox

General Ulysses S. Grant III, grandson of the General Grant to whom Robert E. Lee surrendered in 1865, returned to Appomattox National Historical Park Tuesday for a photo session with the National Geographic Magazine. The present day General Grant is writing an article for the Geographic for April 1965. He was a West Point classmate of General MacArthur, and has given years of service to his country during war and peace time. He is a great admirer of his grandfather, and a well informed historian on the Civil War. His last appearance here was in 1950 when he and Robert E. Lee IV cut the ribbon to the reconstructed McLean House. "Above, he is surrounded by autograph seekers at the McLean House."

Civil War Commission Gives $2,500 To "Sound-Light" Study

RICHMOND — The Virginia to the Richmond Academy of Civil War Commission announced Tuesday it was donating $2,500 to the Appomattox Heritage, Inc., to make a feasibility study for a proposed "sound-light" dramatic presentation at the site of General Robert E. Lee's surrender.

James J. Geary, executive director of the Civil War Commission said approval of the donation was given by the Executive Committee. The Commission was authorized by the 1960 General Assembly to make donations to nonprofit corporations involved in commemorating the Civil War.

In the past the Commission has made donations to the First Manassas Corporation, which staged the re-enactment of the first big battle of the Civil War;

Farmers, File Gas Tax Claim

Farmers should file their claim for federal gas tax refund during the period July 1-September 30, 1964. Farmers who filed in 1963 should receive applications from the Internal Revenue Service by mail. Those who do not receive applications may pick them up at the County Agent's Office.

Appomattox 4-H Members Lead Service At State Short Course

The Thirty - seventh Annual State 4-H Club Short Course was held June 15 - 19 at Virginia State College, Petersburg. The theme this year is "Live to Learn and to Serve Through 4-H Club Work."

The local 4-H members attending as representing delegates were: Juanita Lawing, Mary M. Webb, Stewart Robinson, Simon Walker, Gilbert James, Jr. and adult leader, Mrs. O. W. Smith.

Gilbert James, Jr. "Buck" is State 4-H Club President and served industriously as Conference Leader thoughout the week. Buck was also "Master of Ceremonies, for the Talent Program" which is the most popular activity with the 4-H'ers. Appomattox delegation had charge of Thursday morning Flag Raising Ceremonies and the Meditation Services, with Juanita Lawing as Leader.

The Farm Agent served as instructor for the week's class in photography.

Invites Bids For CCC Corn

The Appomattox County ASCS Office located at Appomattox, Virginia is offering fro sale on a written bid basis approximately 275 bushels of CCC corn for unrestricted use located at Appomattox Farmers Supply Co., and approximately 1500 bushels located at Coleman's Feed & seed Store, Appomatto , Va. Bids may be submitted on the entire lot or in lots of not less than one hundred bushels. The corn is being offered on a "as is" basis loaded on buyer's truck at Appomattox Farmers Supply Co. or at Coleman's Feed and Seed Store. CCC does not warrent the grade and or quality of the corn or the fitness thereof for any particular use. The corn may be inspected before submission of bid. Weights will be determined by scale weights at both locations. The corn is to be removed from the handler's facility within one week after acceptance of bid, unless the handler is the successful bidder or other arrangements are made between the successful bidder and the handler. CCC reserves the right to accept or reject in whole or in part any or all bids. Written bids signed by the bidder MUST BE in the Appomattox County ASCS office by 5:00 p.m. o'clock June 26, 1964. Payment in full must be made by cash or other acceptable remittance on or before delivery.

Appo. Ash Trays Now On Sale

Evergreen Ruritans are selling "Appomattox Ashtrays" cast iron ashtrays with a replica of a cannon the center decoration and "Appomatox 1865-1965" lettered on the rim.

Each ash tray is protected with a special rust preventive which is heat resistant. Each one has a felt covered base, making them suitable for use as paper weights, ash trays, or simple, yet effective decorative accents.

They're on sale at a number of local stores, and may be ordered from Evergreen Ruritans either at the retail price, or in wholesale lots for resale by business firms, clubs, or individuals.

Oakville Ruritans have already purchased a number of them for resale. Lewis Harvey, Evergreen Ruritan president, says that a copyright for the ash tray design has just arrived. "We're thinking about gold plating one of these ash trays," Harvey said, adding that plans for further Centennial publicity and the sale of the new item are now underway.

Cub Scouts Plan Ice Cream Social

Cub Pack 546 of Appomattox is planning an ice cream social Thursday, June 25, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Harry Byrd Stanley. Pack leader Ben Marshall has requested that Cubs who have earned awards should contact him immediately in order that such awards will be on hand for the meting next week.

Oakville Youth Wins 4-H Trip; Millner State FFA President

Wins Top Place In Public Speaking Also

An Appomattox youth was elected state president of the Future Farmers of America at V.P.I last Tuesday in the final session of the 38th annual state F.F.A. convention.

The new president is Ronald Millner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Millner, who also won first place and $100 in the state F.F. A. public speaking contest. Ronald will represent Virginia's 10,000 F.F.A members in the tri-state contest at Cherry Grove, S.C., in August.

As state FFA president Ronald will head state FFA officer meetings throughout the year. During the coming year he will also tour Virginia, visiting FFA chapter banquets, meetings, picnics, and dances. At many of these events he will be guest speaker.

In October Ronald will travel to Kansas City, Missouri, where he and Lowell Koontz, past state president, will be official Va. delegates to the National FFA convention. To complete his year's work, president Millner will preside over the 1963 State FFA convention.

Two Appomattox Girls Attend Girls State At Radford College

Each year on the campus of Radford College, the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Virginia, holds a week long training program in city and state government. At this time the girls actually learn by taking part in activities similar to those carried out in city and state governments. Although conducted by the American Legion Auxiliary, other clubs may send girls at a cost of $27.50 each, provided the quota allows more.

The quota for Appomattox High School is two girls. This year the representatives from Appomattox are Susan Nell O'Brien, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. G. O'Brien, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, and Gayle Clements, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Clements, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The girls were accompanied to Radford on Sunday by Dr. and Mrs. O'Brien, and will return Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Clements.

Special Clinics Set In July

The Crippled Children's Hospital, Richmond, announces the date of its next quarterly clinics. The Plastic Clinic will be held July 5 and the Orthopedic Clinic, July 12.

The Hospital holds quarterly orthopedic clinics in January, April, July, and October. These clinics are held in cooperation with the State Orthopedic Clinics which are under the direction of the Crippled Children's Bureau, Virginia State Department of Health. Previously treated and newly referred patients are examined and an average of one hundred patients are seen at each of these clinics.

Provisions are made at these clinics for laboratory work, x-rays, shoes and braces, when indicated. The Hospital follows all orthopedic and plastic patients until they are eighteen years of age. This is necessary, since most of these patients require post - hospital treatment for years, rather than months.

Jimmy Martin Judged Tops In Forestry

Jimmy Martin, 1963 4-H All Star of Appomattox County has won a trip to the national 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in November. He'd the first Appomattox 4-Her to win such an award since 1959 when Wimnie Lee (Agee) Mrs. Earl went to Chicago for project work in canning.

Jimmy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otho W. Martin, Jr., of Oakville, and June graduate of Appomattox High, won state honors in Forestry; then submitted his record book to a board of judges at VPI in April. His big win, the trip to 4-H Congress, has been a well guarded secret since then.

On hand for the presentation of the award Wednesday night at VPI was a representative of Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., donor of the Chicago trip.

Jimmy has completed twenty-four projects in 4-H Work. In the field of Forestry he has studied forestry appreciation, forestry management, forestry establishment, tree planting and identification, and others.

Career exploring, entymology, health, wild life, tobacco and corn growing, care and use of a tractor, and records of many other completed projects appear on Jimmy's record book.

He has made modest profits from various projects, say Dan Moody, assistant county agent, but, profits from trees "come later."

A 4-H member since 1956, Jimmy has entered the State Demonstration Contest for three years, winning second place in Virginia last year. This year he won the District Forestry Contest in Farmville.

He has earned four county medals, forestry, meat animal, entymology, and tobacco.

Jimmy is a steward of Mt. Comfort Methodist Church, a junior representative to the Civil War Centennial committee, a past vice president of 4-H Honor CLUB — and now president 4-H County Council, and for the Oakville 4-H Club.

Jimmy's younger brother, Richard, attending Short Course this week, was second place district winner in the field of electricity.

Jimmy's father is Stonewall supervisor and chairman of the county Board. Mrs. Martin is a local 4-H Club Leader.

Jimmy attended the first 4-H Forestry Camp held at James-town in 1962. While there enjoying a week at Chicago's Conrad Hilton in November, his grove of 3500 pine trees in Appomattox is "standing evidence" of the hard work and planning that resulted in his trip west and a chance for national honors.

IFFYE Coming Here Saturday

Miss Carole Ann Brookes, 23, an International Farm Youth Exchange Student is scheduled to come to Appomattox Saturday to begin almost a month's visit in the county.

Hosts for her visit here will be the H. P. Leirs and the Hugh Bradens. She will visit other farm families in Texas and visit historic spots in the U.S. before returning to her native England where she lives on a large farm.

Local FHA Pres. Given State Award

Miss Cynthia Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Richardson, was awarded the State Homemaker Degree last week at the Stage Convention of Future Homemakers of America, held at Hotel Chamberlain, Ft. Monroe, Va. Cynthia was awarded this honor for her outstanding work in home, school and community work. Being the past president of her chapter, this future homemaker is very interested and active in the work of her chapter. Cynthia is a rising senior at Appomattox High School.

Zone Chairman Will Install Lions Tonight

Lion President Ivey Holland will call together the final meeting of his administration tonight (Thursday) at 6:45 p.m. at the Parkway. Zone chairman William J. Carter, Lynchburg, will install new officers.
